Wind & Solar Power Are Cost Competitive

Wind is the cheapest source of new electricity generation in the Midwest, and is cheaper than existing coal plants and competitive with existing natural gas. The cost of solar has plummeted in recent years.

Since 2009, the cost of wind has fallen 69 percent and solar power has fallen 88 percent.